

DEFENSIVE TACTICS FOR EMS/FIRE
Saving Yours... While You Save Others!

Healthcare Providers
<http://www.dt4ems.com>

We are all taught to stay off unsafe scene's but what happens when you find yourself on a scene you thought was safe that turns out to be unsafe?

Wayne County EMS will be hosting a Escaping Violent Encounters Course for EMS/Fire and Healthcare Providers.

This class will be held at Wayne County EMS February 6th & 7th, 08:00 - 1700 Eastern Time with 1 hour lunch break. This is a 16 hour course which will give the particpeent 16 hour CUE'S depending on your state reg's. For Hospital staff this course is JACO approved.

Course Cost $100.00, each student will receive a workbook and a DVD with all skills taught.

This Class will be taught by: Josh Inman & Kenny Neal both are Certified Instructor's.

For more information about what this course consist of visit the Website below or you may contact

Kenny Neal @ kneal\_dad@hotmail.com or Cell - 606-306-1680

Josh Inman @ ployboy.ems@gmail.com or Cell - 937-779-9596

Wayne County EMS @ 606-348-3302

111 Jim Hill Service Road.

Monticello, KY 42633

www.dt4ems.com

Saving Yours, While You Save Others!

Patient and Provider Scene Safety Training for America's First Responders

The full course consists of:

- Dispatch to Scene indicators
- Arrival Scene indicators
- Laws of Self Defense
- Assault Response Guidelines
- Laws of Patient Restraint
- Assault Response Problem Solving
- Escape Skills
- The Six Dangerous D's for EMS/Fire
- Pre-Assault Indicators
- Proper Documentation
- Patient vs. Attacker Recognition
- Physical Fitness in EMS/Fire

- 16 CEU's available
- Recognized Subject Matter Expert
- Instructor Development Course Available

- Published Author on EMS Scene Safety
- Experience State and National Level Presenter on the subject of EMS Patient/Provider Scene Safety Skills

E.V.E-4-EMS/Fire

**Have you or your staff ever been threatened, yelled at or physically assaulted by a patient, upset family member or bystander?

**Did you know, according to several studies, injuries from assaults are a leading cause for lost work hours in Fire and EMS?

**Have you ever been concerned about the response you or your provider would use in these particularly stressful incidents?

Most EMS providers can answer yes to at least one of these questions. If you are among them our Defensive Tactics for Emergency Medical Services (DT4EMS) courses can help keep you and your staff safe.

Our training is based on using Good Customer Service at the root of all course content. We train in using proven verbal skills before, during and after an incident. Our courses teach the use of physical force as a last resort, but use real-world skills to free you or your staff from actual physical assaults should they occur.

E.V.E-4-EMS/Fire is Designed to be Liability Conscious. Beyond receiving training in the limits to force and restraint by EMS personnel, participants are trained in articulation and documentation skills that will hold up to any scrutiny in any legal or ethical venue. Sound decisions in the face of a dangerous assault by a patient, and the articulation skills to prove the reasonableness of those responses will reduce the liability exposure in any situation.

E.V.E-4-EMS/Fire is Practical. Our system of assault avoidance and response is designed to be relevant to every member of your staff--big or small, strong or less so, male or female, trained in defense skills or not. We not only avoid fancy techniques that are forgotten before they leave the class, we just don't teach them at all. Instead, we teach your personnel, who are some of the finest "problem-solvers" in our society, to problem-solve the situation confronting them through universal concepts of conflict resolution, deflection and recognition, and physical avoidance and escape that are available to everyone.

E.V.E-4-EMS/Fire is Defensible. Your personnel face the daily prospect of assault and injury. Without training, they WILL resort to improvised methods of defense and restraint. Their improvisation may later be found to be unreasonable, and sometimes even have criminal liability. Additionally, as their employer, your agency or company may be subject to huge civil liability exposure as a result of their actions. DT4EMS™ provides "Assault Response Guidelines" for those instances when prevention and avoidance are just not enough.

